LEAGUE OF NATIONS ISSUE IN MISSOURI

TABWATER FACES A TRIAL FOR MURDER

WILL ENTER INTO THE CONTEST WHEN SPECIAL ELECTION IS HELD TO ELECT ALEXANDER'S SUCCESSOR.

By the Associated Press

GALLATIN, Mo., Jan. 13.—The League of Nations will probably be made an issue in the special congressional election to be held February 14 to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Joshua W. Alexander, former representative in congress from this district, to the portfolio of Secretary of Commerce. Although no official announcement has been made by any of the candidates, democratic politicians who are in touch with the situation, declare that the league will unquestionably be made an issue.

The principal contestants for the democratic nomination are Charles W. Yancy, a wealthy stockman of Liberty, Mo., and Captain J. L. Milligan of Richmond. Yancy is credited with the support of the Alexander wing of the democratic party, while Captain Milligan is expected to inherit much of the strength of the late Judge Frank P. Divilbiss of Richmond. Milligan's war record is also being put forward by his friends. He served overseas, was promoted from private to captain and was cited twice. Other candidates for the democratic nomination are J. W. Sullinger of King City, and L. W. Reed of Breckenridge.

The republican aspirants are Frank B. Klepper, prosecuting attorney of Clinton County, and John E. Frost of Plattdsburg. Klepper was elected to congress from the district fourteen years ago and served one term. Frost was defeated at the last election in 1918 by 1,795 votes, a small plurality for the district, which is normally strongly democratic.

Republican leaders profess to see hope of a victory for them in the factional struggle within the democratic party in the district, recently intensified by the killing of Wesley W. Robertson, editor of the Gallatin Democrat, by Hugh Y. Tarwater, city clerk of Gallatin.

In setting the date for the special election, Governor Gardner said that it was properly the function of the congressional committee to determine whether the candidates should be selected by a primary election or by convention. He added that he had asked the attorney general of the state for an opinion on this subject, but had not heard from him as yet.

Wyoming to Hold Special Session to Ratify Suffrage Bill

By the Associated Press

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 13.—Wyoming soon may have a special session of the state legislature, called on the South Dakota plan, to ratify the federal suffrage amendment. Governor Norbeck induced South Dakota legislators to pay their expenses to Pierre to act on the amendment to give women the right to vote.

Suffrage leaders of Wyoming have urged the governor to call a special session. Governor Carey said he delayed action because he thought an extraordinary session would be necessary to deal with industrial problems. Such a crisis has passed, the governor believes, making an extended session unnecessary.

It is estimated that if the state should finance the special session to ratify suffrage, it would cost about $20,000.

REPUBLICAN WOMAN TO NAT. CONVENTION

By the Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 13.—Kentucky's delegation to the Republican National Convention in Chicago June 8 probably will include Mrs. John G. South, Frankfort; Gov. Edwin P. Morrow; A. T. Hert, national committeeman, and another person. It will be the first time a woman has represented Kentucky at the national convention. Mrs. South, a relative of Gov. Morrow, is chairman of the executive committee of the women's wing of the national organization.

Delegates to the convention from this state will be uninstructed according to local republicans, insofar as a nomination for president is concerned. However, if a contemplated boom to be launched for Gov. Morrow for the nomination of vice president attains considerable proportions there appears to be little doubt that the entire Kentucky delegation will further his cause.

LETTERS WRITTEN HUNDRED YEARS AGO

More than a hundred years ago there were written in London and in Philadelphia five letters that are now in the office of the Evening News. The letters were written by R. Barde, a Frenchman residing at the time in England, and were addressed to his brother, Paul Barde, in London.

He writes again on June 7 and displays great anxiety concerning affairs on the continent. Napoleon has returned from Elba and is advancing into Belgium to fight the battle of Waterloo. Murat has been defeated in Italy. There is deep concern in London.

On July 31 he acknowledges receipt of a letter from home bringing to him the information that his father is much improved in health.

He writes one interesting line: "I congratulate you on rescuing our father from the clutches of the doctors." He makes no mention of the battle of Waterloo or the downfall of Napoleon.

The last letter is written from Philadelphia under date of April 8, 1816. It is a business letter, and indicates that he was in America on some business mission. He mentions a number of French refugees who had fled from France at the time of the restoration of the Bourbons. He says: "General C. who frightened us a year ago at Porteau, is here. From what he says I think he is against Bonaparte."

It is a most interesting series of letters. His reference to the peace council that robbed all Europe of any hope of peace reminds one most forcibly of a later council that attempted to settle problems that have existed for two thousand years.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT FOR GERMANY NOW?

By the Associated Press

PARIS, March 15.—Independent socialists and communists met yesterday at Mannheim and decided to take advantage of the present situation in Germany and proclaim a Soviet Government, according to advice from Basle, Switzerland, the news having reached that city by telephone. Majority and independent socialists throughout Germany appear to be uniting against the military movement instituted at Berlin on Saturday, according to a Basle dispatch.

Under date of May 1, 1815, he writes again from London: "Since writing you I have visited two remarkable cities in Scotland—Glasgow and Edinburgh. I have seen for the first time in Scotland the steamboat, an invention taken from the Americans, and indeed a very fine and useful one. There are about six or

"DRUGS THREATENING TO BECOME GREATER MENACE THAN OLD-TIME "SALOON"

CHARLES B. TOWNS, NARCOTICS AUTHORITY POINTS OUT DANGER FOLLOWING PROHIBITION

NEW YORK, March 9.—"The attention of the same forces that stamped out the curse of alcoholism must be directed to the eradication of drug-using or America will fall in a deeper pit than she sought to avert by prohibition."

This is the statement of Charles B. Towns, recognized as the greatest living authority on drugs. "Do not mistake me," says Towns. "No one could be more against the use of stimulants than I am. And prohibition at any cost is a bargain. But we must not neglect what I consider to be a logical sequence of prohibition—greater use of drugs. Nowhere in the world does the corner drug store flourish as in America.

Contain Drugs.

"Americans flock to the drug store for cures for everything from a headache to sore feet. And fully 85 per cent of these remedies contain habit-forming drugs that grow on those who take them."

The disaster that has been predicted as the result of prohibition need not occur. If the nation keeps its head, studies the situation and acts intelligently it will be averted. I have immense faith in the good sense of the American people and if they awake vast good instead of any harm will follow prohibition legislation."

Towns was asked what legislation is necessary to avert this disaster. "A provision that no physician should prescribe opiates for a longer period than three weeks would solve one side of the problem," he answered. "But the trouble is that such a law will never be passed because the lobbying of the drug interests and the opposition of the doctors makes it impossible."

Says Agents Swoop Down

"One word from those interests bring their agents swooping down with all the power of their huge propaganda machinery to sweep away the results of any work an individual might do. As a matter of fact, the real prohibition of habit-forming drugs could be adjusted over night by an agreement between doctors, drug dispensers and wholesalers of drugs."

"But whatever is done in the way of lawmaking we must learn to know more fully of the problem ahead of us. Drug victims have increased as thousands seek for something else to satisfy the cravings for stimulant denied them by the impossibility to get liquor. If we are wise they will disappear with the chronic alcoholic and untold good will be done for the nation. But if we are not wise the corner drug store will become a greater menace than the saloon and the drug dispenser than the boot-legger."

Net is Tightened.

That the revenue department has tightened its net in order to keep the expected flood of illegal drugs from pouring into this country is certain.

But even their watchfulness will not prevent enough dope from coming into this country to corrupt

HISTORY READY OF 90TH DIVISION

DALLAS, March 11.—Two thousand copies of the Ninetieth Division history are available for purchase at Ninetieth Division Association headquarters, 804 Southwestern Life Building, according to announcement made yesterday by Secretary A. J. Keinhardt. Subscribers, who have paid for their copies, will receive them direct from the publisher, Mr. Reinhardt said.

The history traces the life of the division from its organization at Camp Travis to its disintegration after the war when the men were sent to the different camps for discharge. The book is divided into five sections: The Formative Period, The Period of Movement, The Battle Period, The Period of Occupation and A Miscellany. The miscellaneous section contains statistics on the division, its decorations, casualties, and commendations, and a roster of its officers. To the battle period 150 pages are devoted. The history is profusely illustrated with maps and war photographs, contains 255 pages and is bound in khaki cloth with the division insignia inset on the front cover. Its author, Major George Wythe, who now resides in Washington, was formerly a member of The Dallas News local staff.

The dedication of the history follows: "The soul of any fighting unit lies in the courage and devotion of disciplined officers and men. It is for this reason that there has been set forth in this history the incidents of the death or wounding of practically every officer, as this is one of the means on which to 'hang out tale,' and such events are generally landmarks in the organization to which these officers belonged, definitely identifying the particular action or phase of operations. Not space alone, but the frequent lack of definite information, has rendered it impracticable to include herein similar data for all the men who have so gloriously laid down their lives or sacrificed their limbs in their heroic devotion to duty."

THE DOPE ON DOPE

In 1918, 3,400 chests of opium were imported into the United States; in 1919 (first 10 months) 4,000 chests or 546,000 pounds were imported. This is equal to the amount China absorbed in 1907 and far greater than the amount now going into China.

One drug store in New York last year disposed of $150,000 worth of habit-forming drugs.

Great Britain shipped to Japan (which does not tolerate the sale or use of opium or its derivatives) 25 tons of morphine in 1917 and this amount has been increasing. Most of the morphine used clandestinely in this country has come by the Japan-Mexico route. Fifteen thousand dollars worth of cocaine in a small paper bag was seized by internal revenue agents in New York a few days ago.

Dope cases in the New York special sessions court are now nearly three times the number they were 12 months ago.

There are now 3,262 cases in the New York hospital for the cure of drug addicts. Of this number 1,852 are native born Americans, 2,802 whites and 460 negroes—1,836 of this number are under 25 years of age.

hundreds of thousands, according to Towns, who says:

"Smuggling of drugs is very easy. A spare set of tires on a motor car coming through Canada can contain a staggering amount of misery-dealing drugs. And it is certain that the Mexican border is going to be used as it was never used before for the introducing of these death-dealers. And drug peddling is the easiest thing in the world for those who understand it."

Figures Tell Story.

The following figures obtained from the records of the Riverside hospital of New York, which is a city hospital for the cure of the drug habit, throw light on the manner in which drug habits are contracted:

Causes of addictions, illness, 429;

association, 2,482 other causes, curiosity, trouble, etc. 351. And according to the same authority a large majority of the patients are not yet out of their teens.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York's health officer, as well as those in charge of collecting internal revenues, habit-forming drugs will pour into this country in increasingly large lots and that, only by eternal vigilance, by the enactment of far more rigid laws, and by stirring America into a realization of what has happened, will she be saved from unbelievable degradation and untold misery.

"It is not surprising to me to learn," says Copeland, "that in 1918 3,400 chests of opium were imported into the United States and that during the first 10 months of 1919 the number of chests increased to 4,000 or 546,000 pounds.

"And that amount is going to continue and grow larger unless drastic action is taken and more power given those who have in their hands the enforcing of laws designed to save this country from that evil."

and every officer and man who paid the supreme sacrifice that liberty should not perish from the earth, this book is reverently dedicated.

"May those rude crosses, not alone in the oppy fields of Europe, but amid the battle-scarred and shell-pitted regions of St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne, as well as those placed later along the vine-clad Moselle valley, be white fingers of warning pointing upward from the living dead—a warning that their sacrifice must not be permitted to have been made in vain; a warning to Americans that the principles of liberty, freedom, and enlightenment, justice and patriotism, to be preserved, must be continually safeguarded, fostered and maintained. Their sacrifices can not—shall not have been in vain."

NEW PARTY TO MEET FOR ORGANIZATION

By the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—A new political party with a committee of forty-eight as its nucleus will have candidates for president and vice-president in the forthcoming national election, it was announced here today.

Paul Harris Drake of Boston, a director of the committee, said the proposed party would be composed of "labor" organizations such as the American Labor Party and various farmer societies. Candidates will be selected at a national convention to be held probably here next June, he explained.

MORE PURE BRED STOCK FOR COUNTY

STONETOWN, March 13.—Pontotoc county is fast becoming a pure bred stock center, according to information given the News by County Agent Hill. Last week several Pontotoc county men attended the Fat Stock Show at Oklahoma City, and several purchases were made. Curtis Floyd and Joe Riddle, two ex-club boys, purchased Angus bulls at top prices. Dr. B. F. Sullivan bought three head of pure bred shorthorns to add to his herd and Curtis and Otis Floyd bought a "flock" of Poland-China sows. At the Flinnerty sale, recently held in Oklahoma City, where all records were broken for high priced hogs, when 40 pure bred Durocs brought over $20,000, held no fears for Pontotoc county stock men, since eight of the forty hogs sold were shipped to Pontotoc county. The purchasers were Ben Boring, who lives near Ahloso, S. B. Mayfield and W. H. Stevens, both of Stonewall.

Where Will You Be When Opportunity Knocks?

It is becoming fashionable to say that success in business is a matter of luck. It's easier to say that than to be honest and admit that we are willing to succeed if it isn't too much trouble and doesn't prevent us from having a good time.

Most modern young men are given a flying start—and most of them don't appreciate it. They are given a chance to learn all there is to know about overhead, turning over, buying and selling.

They are going in business for themselves some day and turn their knowledge into gold.

WHEN IS YOUR "SOME DAY"?

Experience teaches us that it takes some capital to start even a shoestring business. It takes courage to save the capital.

It is easier to spend everything we make and hope someone will stake us to a start than to be practical and cold blooded and make up our minds to be ready when opportunity knocks at our door.

TEACHER SHORTAGE A GRAVE PROBLEM OWEN DENIES M'ADOO'S CLAIMS

CONDITION RELIEVED IN SOME PARTS OF COUNTRY ONLY TO GROW WORSE IN OTHER PARTS.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The teacher shortage situation, while in some parts of the country slightly better than last October when the National Education Association made its inquiry, is still a very grave problem, according to reports received by the Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior.

On February 13 the commissioner of education found, on the basis of returns from state school officers, that there are 18,279 schools closed because of the lack of teachers, and 41,900 schools taught by teachers characterized as "below standard, but taken on temporarily in the emergency." The largest shortages are as follows: Kentucky, 2,250; Texas, 2,055; Virginia, 2,000; Georgia, 1,500; North Carolina, 700, and Iowa, 600.

Substandard teachers are reported as follows: Texas, 4,000; Virginia, 3,500; Alabama, 3,500; Georgia, 3,000; Tennessee, 3,000; Minnesota, 1,880; Illinois, 1,200; Kentucky, 1,100; New York, 1,100; South Carolina, 1,000.

In response to the question "What provision is made for children in territories where schools are closed?" eighteen states report that children are transferred to other schools, three states report no provision, one state report requires "some," two states report that the majority of children are losing the grade.

In response to the question, "Are people moving to centers of population?" six states report that no data are at hand; five states report "very little," three states report a considerable movement, and four states report "none."

In response to the question, "To what extent are taxpayers interesting themselves in paying better salaries for teachers?" 14 states report that the interest is general. One state reports "great interest," and one state reports very large interest, while another reports that they are "doing their best."

One significant fact in connection with the shortage of teachers is that 190 state, county, city and private normal schools report 11,503 fewer students November 1, 1919, than they had the year previous to the war. These schools reporting represent 60 per cent of the total normal schools, and on this basis, there would be a shortage of 19,170, and at graduation time, 1920, there will be 7,000 fewer graduates from the normal schools. Teacher training departments in colleges show approximately the same falling off in those preparing to teach, although other departments show a great increase in enrollment.

"Another significant fact is revealed," says A. O. Neal of the Bureau's division of rural education, in commenting upon the situation. Since 1890 there has been a continuous and increasing withdrawal of men teachers from the profession. The percentage of men teachers in 1890 was 37 per cent. In 1910 it had fallen to 22 per cent, and in 1918 to 17 per cent. In other words, in 1890 one teacher in three was a man; in 1910 one teacher in five; and in 1918 one teacher in six was a man.

"The question of teachers' salaries is vital in this discussion, and a comparison of teachers' salaries from 1916 to 1918, the latest complete statistics available, show that in the two years, from 1916 to 1918, the average teachers' salary advanced from $563 per year to $635 per year, an increase of $72, or 13 per cent in the two years. The total figures for 1918 show that the average salary for elementary teachers in the United States was $606, and the average salary for high school teachers, $1,031. The bureau is now collecting salary schedules from various states, giving the actual salaries received by individual teachers in three counties in each state. These show that the salaries of rural teachers are far below this average in many states, and that salaries as low as $150 to $200 per annum are found in many localities.

"Another cause of teachers withdrawing from the profession is found in the lack of provision made for suitable homes in the community where the teachers may become a part of the social organization. This is particularly true in rural districts where in many communities they are providing teachers' homes in connection with the schools."

OWEN DENIES M'ADOO'S CLAIMS

SAYS OWEN AND NOT M'ADOO WAS THE ORIGINATOR OF THE POPULAR RESERVE BANK PLAN

Claims made by George Creel that former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo conceived of and accomplished the passage of the federal reserve banking act and the farm loan act are denied in an open letter to Creel written last week by James W. Beller, former secretary to Senator Owen and manager at present of the Washington, headquarters of the Owen-for-President club.

In an article on McAdoo in the Literary Digest of February 28, Creel said "the keen McAdoo mind conceived the idea of the federal reserve system and his indomitable determination drove it through in the face of bitter opposition." He made a similar statement in regard to the passage of the farm act.

"Members of Congress Know." "Both of these statements are incorrect," Beller says in claiming the honor for Senator Owen.

It is not only with the personal knowledge of every member of Congress who participated in the passage of the federal reserve act, but it is also a matter of record that the man who conceived the idea of the federal reserve system and who was primarily and principally responsible for the framing and passage of that act is Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma.

The banking and currency committee of the senate was created in 1913 for the express purpose of enabling Senator Owen, who was made its chairman, to formulate and present through an appropriate channel those views upon the subject of a federal reserve system which he had consistently advocated from the time of their initial presentation by him to the resolutions committee of the democratic national convention of 1896.

McAdoo, as secretary of the treasury, appeared before the banking and currency committee of the senate and submitted suggestions both orally and in writing as to the federal reserve act. Only those suggestions which accorded with the views of Senator Owen were incorporated in the act. McAdoo opposed certain provisions of the act which represented Senator Owen's views, and while those provisions were eliminated temporarily from the act they were ultimately incorporated in it. In fact it is impossible to conceive of any legislative act for which one man is more directly responsible or more entitled to credit than is Senator Owen in relation to the federal reserve act."

Beller supports his assertion as to the authorship of the federal farm loan act by quoting from a letter Senator Owen from Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, who introduced the bill in the senate, in which the latter gives Senator Owen full credit for that measure.

Hollis Letter is Quoted

"I hope that the country sometime will realize what you have done for it in inspiring and bringing to realization the federal farm loan act as well as the federal reserve act," Senator Hollis said.

Many of the important features of the farm loan act, Beller says, were taken from a bill introduced previously by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, who first conceived the idea of establishing the farm loan system.

In addition to being secretary to Senator Owen, Beller was clerk of the banking and currency committee of the senate and had an opportunity in that position to understand exactly the part taken by members of the committee in the shaping of financial legislation.

IRRIGATED CROP PRODUCTION DOUBLE THE NON-IRRIGATED

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The results of irrigation on crop production as compared to non-irrigation are shown by an investigation of the department of agriculture in Colorado. Corn production on irrigated land last year was 30.6 bushels per acre and on non-irrigated land 15.2 bushels; winter wheat 24.7 and 9.3 bushels, respectively; spring wheat 22.8 and 7.4 bushels; oats 37.0 and 15.2 bushels; barley 30.8 and 12.5 bushels; rye 15.5 and 8.6 bushels, and potatoes 155 and 34 bushels.

Dr. Gordon of Ada Delivers Remarkable Address To Teachers

Sulphur Democrat:

President Gordon began his address by complimenting the schools of Sulphur and Davis both for the excellent programs they had prepared for the evening. He took occasion, also, to compliment Mr. Davis, president of the school board of Davis, on the fact that the school had a moving picture machine and expressed the belief that this kind of community interests would become more and more manifest and that the schools over the state would use such means to bring the people together.

The speaker opened his discussion by saying that a real crisis is on so far as teachers are concerned and predicted an even greater shortage next year than there is at present. He mentioned the fact that the Normal school had had many, many calls for teachers that it was not able to fill and that some students had dropped out from the Normal school to take positions for which they were poorly prepared. And the Normal school regretted this very much as it is trying to turn out competent teachers; however, it was necessary in many instances, for school boards to take poorly prepared girls for their schools or close the doors of the schools.

The subject of his address was "The Teacher Problem and its Solution." The necessity of mentioning low salaries paid teachers was regretted by the speaker as he is in the school business himself. However, when a day laborer gets more pay yearly than the average teacher, when a brick layer gets double the amount, or a carpenter or a barber, then the situation with reference to the teacher must be mentioned. Furthermore, men in these callings had spent very little if any funds or time getting ready for their work, all the time they were getting ready they were making money. But a teacher has to spend years in preparation and she or someone else has to spend money on her preparation. It is a common observation that a laborer gets $4 per day, which is $100 per month or $1,200 a year. And laborers are working all the time, practically, at this time. A carpenter gets $8 a day and a brick layer $10. The average salary this year for teachers in Murray county, was given as an illustration of the matter under discussion.

Teachers with third grade certificates get $575 per year, those with second grade get $760 and those with first grades are receiving $726. The permanent certificates teachers—those with normal school diplomas and university degrees—receive $1,142.80.

Another discouraging feature of the teaching profession is the tenure of service in the position. Most teachers and school administrators are employed for one year only; and the average length of service of city superintendents in Oklahoma is less than four years at the same place, and for high school principals the time is less than two years. Consequently teachers go from place to place with no place to call home. Indeed, if a member of a school teacher's family is called by death, "there is no place to bury the dead."

Another serious drawback for teachers, especially for those who work in rural communities, is the poor vast majority of the places in the country where rural school teachers stay, has no separate room with heat and light for the teacher. Many people do not realize that if a teacher is to do her best work she must have a room to herself and it must be comfortable in winter as well as in summer. And in this the teacher is not "stuck up." On the other hand, the people are learning to charge a good round sum for room and board, whether accommodations are good or poor. The result is that many teachers pay from one-third to one-half and more of their monthly salary for room and board.

Teachers Quitting the Profession.

The result is that teachers are quitting the profession. County Agent Swartz of Murray county was mentioned as an example. Swartz has spent many years and a great deal of money preparing himself for school work. But now he is seemingly forced out of the profession. A teacher at the normal school who holds a Ph. D. degree and who has therefore, spent seven years in college and university work and thousands of dollars in money in preparing himself for efficient school work, had just a few days ago laid his resignation before the president with these suggestive sentences among others: "Living expenses have increased to such an extent that the salary received at the present time is even less than the low compensation paid when I entered the employment of the state six years ago. Instead of increasing with the length of service the decrease is really alarming. * * * * When the commonest labor pays a living wage and a teacher of our state institutions with preparation costing ten thousand dollars can not at least earn an equal salary, it seems to me that our profession is facing a serious crisis."

"The unfortunate result," the speaker said, "is that when good teachers leave the profession manifestly only dregs will be left." And so many good school men are leaving the profession that some who stay are almost ready to apologize for remaining in the profession. "And if all the good teachers are forced out, what becomes of our civilization? I want my children instructed by good teachers. And I want your children to have the same advantage. There are only 650,000 public school teachers in the United States. Almost that many people died last year from influenza, but the world moved on. With one stroke the 650,000 teachers might be brushed off the face of the earth so far as the individual teacher is concerned. But what would become of our civilization? There are more than 22,000,000 school children in

IRELAND FOREVER

This is the day that belongs to old Ireland. On every hand are visible the tokens of affection for the turbulent sons of the Irish race. The shamrock shines today on many an Anglo-Saxon, while thousands of those who know nothing of Irish history or tradition wear the colors of the Emerald Isle.

Men die as the leaves of autumn but Ireland is immortal. In spite of her thousand years of tragic errors, the heart of the world is drawn toward that heroic people who lost their identity as a nation centuries ago. Mistakes that would have cowed any other race ever sprung from the womb of the ages have been insufficient to bring reproach to the war loving sons of Erian Boru. Any mistake by the sons of Erin will be excused by a world long accustomed to the errors of the Irish race.

It is in the smile of Ireland that her race is immortal. Catching the sun flashes that light the waves of Donegal the sons of Erin have laughed their way through a world in arms. Wherever Irish wit and Irish humor are known and loved the Irish find their friends. Laughing through clouds that would blight the hope and break the spirit of any other people, laughing amid calamities that would crush the hearts of any other breed of men, the Irishman has conquered the prejudice of all nations and in spite of errors inexcusable in any other people he has captivated the fancy of the world.

Wherever a flag has floated or legions have moved to battle the Irish have drawn their swords. They have fought in every war of consequence for the past thousand years. It has been due to their reckless courage that thirty nations have won in battle. But he has lost his own battles while winning victories for all other nations. His native sod is today dragged by aliens, and the flag of the hated Saxon floats from his castle walls. Mutinies, murders, and massacres have succeeded one another in tragic succession; the soil of Ireland has been soaked in the blood of countless rebellions; the roll of Ireland's heroes is still covering his harp with the wild, woven flowers he strikes to the numbers of Erin Go Bragh.

Of all the bitter tragedies born to the world conflagration, the bitterest of all was reserved for Ireland. Had she supported the allied cause with the heroic fervor displayed by Scotland, Wales or Canada, the united will of the allied world would have forced the independence of Ireland. But she permitted her ancient hatred of the English to blind her eyes to the most golden opportunity that ever came to the Irish race. Forgetting the call of freedom in her matchless anger, she lost an opportunity that comes only once in a thousand years.

But in spite of all mistakes and all shortcomings, the world is today the friend of Ireland. It welcomes the day of St. Patrick in all the corners of the earth and wears his ever green colors in honor of his sons. And as long as the shamrock blooms in the valleys of Killarney, the friends of freedom throughout the earth will have a smile and a tear for Ireland.

DOLLARS ON THE HOOF

The steady introduction of thoroughbred cattle into Pontotoc County is one of the hopeful signs of the present. Every thoroughbred imported is adding to the insurance of the county against future adversity. Prosperity follows hard on the heels of registered cattle, and no stock growing section is open to the succeeding waves of depression that so frequently stagnate purely agricultural sections.

Pontotoc is destined to become in the immediate future one of the great livestock counties of Oklahoma. Here are found the essentials of a prosperous livestock industry. The test has already been made and the entire county is a proven field. Some of the best cattle in the state are here already, and it is surprising how great is their number. The number is increasing with gratifying rapidity. The future belongs to the farmer who with intelligence devotes himself to the growing of pure-bred cattle.

Pontotoc County still leads the world. For instance a citizen of this county was divorced on January 16, married again down in Texas, four days later and filed another divorce suit on March 1.

All the good citizens are not running for office. Quite a few of them are planting potatoes.

McManis Buys in Busby Drug.
ALLEN, Okla., March 15.—A deal worthy of note in Allen was that of the change of ownership of the Busby Drug Store, which will hereafter be known as the McManis and Rose Drug Co. Mr. McManis, an experienced drug man of Muskogee, has formed a partnership with Dr. F. C. Rose of this city, hence the name, McManis & Rose.

Mr. McManis comes to Allen well recommended and the making of his acquaintance will prove that he is a man of sterling qualities.

Dr. Rose is well known here and the mere mention of his connection directly with the store will be an important factor in the upbuilding of an unlimited trade both in and out of the city.

Mr. Busby, the retiring member, is one of the very best and most accomodating business men Allen has ever known and although he needs a rest very badly we regret to see him out of business.

Johnson Buys Cox's Interest.

A deal was made on the 8th whereby Tommie Johnson became the owner of P. H. Cox's interest in the Majestic Theatre. Mr. Johnson only a few months ago purchased a half interest with Mr. Cox and under the combined management of both of them the show has thrived still more than heretofore and Mr. Johnson's purchase of the remainder of the show goes to prove that it is a gilt-edged proposition.

As soon as the buildings are completed which are now under construction for Mr. Johnson's father, the show will occupy a fifty foot building, and will be modernly equipped, with a larger seating capacity and new furnishings throughout, and with his show permanently located and perfectly equipped there is no doubt but that it will be one of the best and most modern in this part of the country.

NEWSPAPER MAN TELLS OF MEXICO

EXPelled FROM REPUBLIC BY
GREASER GOVERNMENT AS A
PERNICKY FOREIGNER

LAREDO, Tex., March 12.—Gerald Brandon, the American newspaper man recently expelled from Mexico as a "pernicious foreigner" declared upon his arrival here that he had been held incommunicado in a Mexico City prison from February 26 until March 2. A number of incidents led to his deportation, he declared, the principal grievance being his reports to a Los Angeles paper of his investigation of the famous Jenkins case. Certain Mexican officials also had become indignant over his reports concerning relief work in the recent earthquake disaster in the state of Vera Cruz, Brandon asserted.

He arrived at Nuevo Laredo on March 4 in custody of two Mexico City policemen who released him in the center of the international brige. The newspaper man came to Laredo, thence proceeding to Los Angeles. He had been in the Mexican national capital three months as correspondent for the Los Angeles paper.

Mr. Brandon said he investigated the case of W. O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Puebla, and confirmed to his satisfaction reports of false testimony by Mexican peons against Jenkins, which previously had been published in the United States. He also discovered that claims by Mr. Jenkins regarding the destruction of part of the evidence in the case were correct, Brandon declared. Publication of the result of his investigation incensed the governor of the state of Puebla, he said, and the governor filed a strong protest in Mexico City.

On February 26, Mr. Brandon said, he was arrested in his home without a warrant having been issued. He declared he had been held without counsel or trial until March 2, when he was informed that he was persona non grata and would be expelled under article 33 of the Mexican constitution.

CHILD IN YEARS IS SOLD IN MARRIAGE

By News' Special Service:

NASHVILLE, March 11.—Will the brutal "sale" of little Florence Lambert, 11, to be the wife of Ben B. Zumbro, 45, forever harden the girl's heart against love and frighten her from marriage?

Charity workers here confess they do not know. Her mother doesn't care, she says, and the minister-blacksmith who "married" the two thinks all the agitation "the meddling of people down on us poor folks."

The case was brought to the attention of Litton Hickman, judge of the county court, who, after conference with Attorney General G. B. Kirkpatrick, characterized the affair as one of the most revolting and pitiful he had ever known. He said he would use every means to prosecute those who had anything to do with forcing the child into "marriage." Annulment proceedings will be started.

As for poor little "Mrs. Zumbro," she says, and likes it better at the United Charities home because her "husband" fussed with her.

Florence, who wears her dresses no lower than her knees and is of childlike face and figure, was "married" by fraud. She was a ward of the industrial home and was given leave to attend the funeral of her sister. While on this leave her mother, Mrs. Lulu Lambert, signed a marriage license asserting the girl was 16 and the "groom" 35. Zumbro, it is said, promised money to the mother.

The Rev. W. S. Yarbrough, who says he is a Baptist minister but "not working at it," "married" the pair in the presence of 20 people. He believed the license, he says, and didn't notice that the child had all the appearances of extreme youth, and wore short dresses.

Deserted Wife Seeks Divorce From Husband

Mrs. Vada Alexander filed her suit for divorce in district court yesterday asking for divorce from her husband, S. G. Alexander. She is represented by Joseph Anderson as attorney.

Plaintiff states in her petition that she married defendant at Wamble, Ark., September 26, 1915. That of this marriage three children have been born and are now living with plaintiff. That defendant without any cause abandoned plaintiff at Vanoss on February 24, 1919, and has remained away ever since. That the present whereabouts of defendant are unknown to plaintiff. Therefore plaintiff asks for divorce, the costs of this action and $50 attorney's fee.

GOVERNMENT WILL WATCH FOR BORER

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The enormous value of corn, the premier crop of the nation, has made it necessary for the government to take all possible precautions to prevent further infestation from the European "corn borer" which is supposed to have entered the country in shipments of broom corn and has obtained a limited foothold in the eastern part of the country.

Large sums are being spent in an effort to control it and a ruling is soon expected from the federal horticultural board as to whether a quarantine shall be imposed against all foreign countries to prevent further entrance of stalks and ears of Indian corn, broom corn or other plants that may bring the borers. It would not apply to shelled corn or to the thrashed seeds of the other plants.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU MUST HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend; for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcels post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Ada News. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Seven I. W. W.'s Found Guilty of Centralia Murder

MONTESANO, Wash., March 13.—Seven of the ten I. W. W. charged with the murder of Warren O. Grimm, one of four soldiers shot during an armistice day parade at Centralia, Wash., were found guilty tonight of second degree murder. Three others were found not guilty. Loren Roberts, one of the trio, was acquitted on the ground of insanity.

As for poor little "Mrs. Zumbro," she says, and likes it better at the United Charities home because her "husband" fussed with her.

Florence, who wears her dresses no lower than her knees and is of childlike face and figure, was "married" by fraud. GERMANY BACK TO MONARCHY

NOT YET KNOWN WHETHER THE OVERTURN AT BERLIN MEANS RESTORATION OF KAISER OR NOT.

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, March 13.—The public guard this morning occupied the offices of the Vorwärts. The service to the provinces and abroad was provisionally suspended. President Ebert and his wife left Berlin at five o'clock this morning.

It was reported during the morning that a manifesto had been prepared, signed by President Ebert and Minister of Defense Noske, summoning workers to general strike.

The names associated with the new revolutionary movement in Germany indicate its reactionary character. It appears that Germany is in the throes of the frequently predicted counter-revolutionary monarchistic struggle. Dr. Von Kapp, reported as having assumed the chancellorship, is probably the Dr. Kapp who was a member of the Reichstag and general director of the German Agricultural Society. He was one of the deputies who early in 1918 urged the government to speed up U-Boat building. He became president of the Fatherland party, the notorious Pan-German organization, which urged that Germany carry on the war to the bitter end. After the abdication of Emperor William and the signing of the armistice, Dr. Kapp was one of the men for whose arrest the independent socialists clamored violently on the ground that he and his associates had been responsible for the continuation of the war. Major General Von Lüttwitz, who according to the dispatches was named commander in chief, was military governor of Belgium in the early days of the war. He was later a commander on the Verdun front. When the German treaty came up for action by the government last June, he was one of the leaders of the military party prominent in opposition to the peace terms. He has an American wife who was a Miss Cary of Cleveland, Ohio.

There has been a strongly held belief outside of Germany that the Pan-German monarchistic party was merely biding its time and awaiting an opportune moment to seize control. There has been nothing, however, in the early reports of the overturn at Berlin, to indicate that this movement looks to a restoration of the Hohenzollern dynasty, but the fact that the development is apparently of a monarchistic character will cause attention to be paid any news from Holland regarding the former royal personages who have been making their homes in that country for more than a year past.

To secure the distribution of this combined apology and personal justification he has written a letter to postmasters alternately threatening and cajoling them under the guise of pretended friendship in the efforts to get his documentary campaign dope into the hands of Democratic voters.

This is the much-vaunted opening of his "campaign for vindication." With unctuous words and bald hypocrisy he seeks to turn aside the stern verdict of public condemnation for his disloyal conduct toward his party and the nation during the strenuous period of the war. He voices in this labored plea no sorrow or regret for the treacherous attacks which he and his kind aimed at the very power of the Republic to wage a war in defense of its honor and of humanity. Every line of his sixteen page brief is devoted to an explanation of his perfidy and his feeble and farraginous efforts to justify his course and mollify, if he cannot appease, the wrath of the people whose patriotism and love of country he has outraged by his studied misrepresentation of their principles in the United States Senate.

Instead of coming home to be welcomed by a grateful people for his loyal and patriotic attitude during the war as Scott Ferris has been welcomed, Gore has, perhaps, shown a wise discretion in opening his campaign at long range. Oklahoma voters are in no humor to listen to his whining apologies ad clamorously framed alibis while he still seeks to justify his desertion of the party and the principles to which they claim allegiance.

GORE LAUNCHES HIS CAMPAIGN

NOT IN THE OPEN AS A MAN
NOT AFRAID OF HIS GROUND
BUT BY THE GOVERNMENT
PRINTING OFFICE ROUTE

The long expected entrance of Senator Gore into the campaign for re-election to the Senate has occurred. He has entered the lists, but through the collapse of his plans for an oratorical hippodrome under the guise of a friendly joint discussion on Women's Suffrage, he has taken on the Government printing office route and by a self serving construction of the regulations governing the use of the franking privilege, which amounts to a flagrant abuse of that privilege, he is flooding the State with a sixteen page plea in confession and avoidance of the unpatriotic and un-American record made by him before and during the war.

To secure the distribution of this combined apology and personal justification he has written a letter to postmasters alternately threatening and cajoling them under the guise of pretended friendship in the efforts to get his documentary campaign dope into the hands of Democratic voters.

This is the much-vaunted opening of his "campaign for vindication." With unctuous words and bald hypocrisy he seeks to turn aside the stern verdict of public condemnation for his disloyal conduct toward his party and the nation during the strenuous period of the war.

THOSE WOMEN WHO DREAD MIDDLE-LIFE

Houston, Texas.—"To a woman who looks with dread upon the approach of middle life, I would say there is nothing whatever to fear if she will only take the right medicine just as soon as she has any of the distressing symptoms. I became so weak that I could scarcely get around to do my own housework, and I was just as miserable as one could be when I started to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The first bottle made a wonderful difference and before I had finished the second bottle I was safely through the critical time in absolutely perfect health—no more hemorrhages, no heat flashes, dizzy spells or nervousness. I felt more than repaid for the cost of those two bottles of "Favorite Prescription" and would have been glad to purchase more, had it been necessary."—Mrs. M. M. Brooks, 4304 Center St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a remedy that any ailing woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots, does not contain alcohol or narcotics. Its ingredients printed on wrapper.

John Rawls was born in Hot Springs, Ark., 45 years ago, and secured a common school education and fought his way to manhood by the efforts of his own genius. He is what might be termed a self made man, and his education in the school of experience since the days of his boyhood fit him especially for the office of sheriff in a pioneer country like this ours.

Mr. Rawls has never asked for a public county office, yet since his manhood he has held commissions in the capacity of an enforcement officer of some kind or other, due to his natural ability for that character of work. For seven years he has served the city of Ada most efficiently as chief of police, and never for an instant has he been suspected of not being absolutely fair to all classes and fearless to the last.

Mr. Rawls is thoroughly familiar with the history of the work of the sheriff's department in this country ever since it became a county. He solicits the earnest consideration of every voter of Pontotoc county at the August primary, both male and female, and if elected to the office he seeks will endeavor to discharge the duties of the same to the very best of his ability.

Fitzhugh Man Is Discharged In Justice Court

Harry Spann of the Fitzhugh court was tried in Justice Brown's court this morning on a charge of removing debrained stock. It seems that T. L. McPherson had taken up some cattle and colts belonging to Spann and was holding them for damages. Someone removed the stock from the inclosure where they were being kept, and McPherson had Spann arrested on a charge of removing them. At the hearing this morning Judge Brown decided that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant a conviction and he dismissed the defendant.

It seems that McPherson and Spann had already had a personal combat because of this trouble and Spann had paid a fine for fighting on his plea of guilty.

STRANGLING A CITY

Has Ada quit growing? The many people who are now forced to leave the city in order to find a house to live in are ready to answer this question in the affirmative. And they are leaving right along. People of the best kind and class, people that are needed here to keep the city growing and to carry on its work, come here with the expectation of making this city their permanent home, but being unable to find homes they are leaving and leaving every day.

This situation has reached a serious stage. It has reached the stage where lack of houses has drawn a ring around the city sufficiently strong to permit farther expansion impossible. Every house is taken. Many people are living in back rooms and over places of business. Many people are unable to find any place to stop. So many people are leaving, and the city is being permanently damaged by their departure.

Hundreds of houses have been built in Ada during the past two years. The number completed in the city has been remarkable. But the number built has not been sufficient to accommodate all house seekers. The number will not take care of our increasing population. The city is more crowded than it was when the building campaign first got under way. The number of people asking for houses without being able to obtain them is greater now than it was a year ago. Lack of housing facilities is hurting the city continually and hurting it severely.

No one wants to see vacant houses scattered throughout the city and everyone knows that a prosperous city is always crowded. But a city that remains crowded without adequate arrangements being made to care for an increasing population is not going to remain prosperous very long. Motion is the law of nature and expansion is the law of civic life. This question is one that deserves the careful thought of our public spirited citizens.

WHEN THE ARMISTICE CAME

General Pershing has issued a statement denying that "there was needless sacrifice of men" the day the armistice went into effect. He also denies that French divisions were held back while American divisions were sent in. His denial was called forth by the assertion of a Massachusetts officer that the losses on Armistice day were needless losses.

While many civilians have believed that it was useless to fight on till the clock struck 11, it must be admitted that General Pershing probably understood the situation better than any civilian and equally well as any other officer. Then it must be remembered that the allies were fighting an enemy whose word was worthless. The Hun had never kept a promise and had proved himself a master of duplicity. He had shot down allied soldiers after they had surrendered. He had drowned the defenseless crews of helpless lifeboats. He had covered his submarines with prisoners and diving beneath the waves had left them to live or die as they could.

Knowing that no promise of the Hun would be kept if he could find a possibility of breaking that promise, it would seem that the allied command was justified in taking no chances. They knew the enemy they were fighting and knowing him decided that it was the best policy to crowd him and kill him to the last moment of allotted time. The Hun himself fought on to the last moment, and it was hardly proper to permit him to do all the killing. A suspension of activity by the allies one hour before 11 would have given the Hun unchallenged opportunity to massacre entire units. It was too much of a hazard to risk.

The bitterest of all the war's bitter tragedies was the death of allied soldiers just as the clocks were striking peace. But the war was a tragedy throughout. Through all its long reaches of horror it presented few redeeming features, and the last act of the tragedy is simply one that came at the close of a ghastly carnival of death.

Almost any alien can now get a free trip back to his native land, free bed and free board furnished, if he will only get out on the streets and talk bolshevism. Pretty good financial arrangement for the alien who has made his pile and is ready to return anyway.

Another development that is of course a pure co-incidence is the blowing up of munitions plans just as the government was beginning an active campaign against the reds.

PONTOTOC COUNTY SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Cedar Grove completed the second month of her "winter term" school work Jan. 9th, with an enrollment of one hundred and twelve pupils. The attendance has been excellent for this kind of weather and the pupils seem to be interested in their work. Enrollment and attendance have both been augmented since the Christmas holidays. Perhaps our Christmas program, Christmas tree, and reorganization of Sunday School had something to do with that.

Teachers and pupils alike are highly elated over the new equipment consisting of a new organ, song books, desks and chairs, a partition, and a new Smith's Heating System which have been added this month.

We especially mention the new Smith's Heating System which not only keeps our school house warm and comfortable but also gives it a thorough ventilation. To say that we appreciate the efforts of these who installed it would be expressing it in very mild and gentle terms. Winter has been made pleasant and like "snow men" we laugh at the cold north wind.

Black Rock school under the direction of Mr. Sturgill has made the following improvements: Portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Wilson have been framed and hung in the building which adds materially to the appearance of the school room. Also a stand for the water cooler, stove, window curtains and blinds have been added. The floor has been oiled and the building has been repainted. The new outbuildings are built according to the plans approved by the county health officer. Plans are in progress to build some playground equipment. This is badly needed, indeed, but we are not expecting to get everything done immediately. However, we are working to make our school a modern rural school according to the "Standardizing the Schools of Pontotoc County."

A community meeting was held at the Wilson school the past month which raised the necessary money to purchase playground equipment for the school. The playground has been put in first class order, swings erected and a basketball team organized. A teacherage has been built for the Wilson teachers, which is quite an advantage to the district as well as to the teachers.

The following teachers were in the office Saturday in the interest of their schools: Misses Lola Edwards, Myrtle Sutherland, Flora Summers, Lola Ledbetter and Catherine Bulen. Messrs. W. W. Jones, J. R. Waldby, Homer Miller, Roy Stegall and E. H. Gillerman.

Miss Exie Nolen has gone to Maxwell to supply the place of Mrs. G. Overturf, who is very ill with pneumonia.

Miss Willie Cole has accepted a position in the Allen school.

Miss Gussie Stephens of Oakman has accepted the assistant's place at Galley.

Some unfair criticisms have been made about some teachers who could not solve all of the problems in the newly adopted arithmetic. I have Divelbiss of Richmond, Mo., for Congress instead of Alexander. A bitter primary fight was waged, which resulted in the nomination and later in the election of Alexander.

Following the election of Alexander to Congress, Judge Divelbiss was stabbed to death last May in the courthouse at Richmond by Robert S. Lyon, editor of the Richmond Conservator. Lyon was acquitted of murder at his trial. He pleaded self-defense.

Tarwater, who killed the Gallatin editor, was a Divelbiss supporter in the Congressional fight. He had bought the machinery of a newspaper plant and brought it to Gallatin, intending to establish a newspaper. He is 52 years old, married, and had been a Sunday school teacher. He was removed to St. Joseph following the shooting, as mob violence was feared.

In his dying statement Robertson asserted that Tarwater had come to his office at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of December 23 and told the editors that he did not wish him to print his name again in the Democrat. Robertson, according to his statement, told Tarwater that he was running the paper and would use his own judgment in determining that matter. Some further words followed, and then, according to Robertson's statement, Tarwater opened fire on him.

Tarwater was overpowered and disarmed by R. J. Ball, Robertson's business partner, and postmaster of Gallatin.

Robertson had lived in Gallatin many years, and was a former president of the Missouri Press Association.

Tarwater will be given a preliminary hearing at Gallatin, January 13.

GALLATIN, Mo., Jan. 13.—The preliminary trial of Hugh Y. Tarwater, city clerk of Gallatin, on a charge of killing Wesley L. Robertson, editor of the Gallatin Democrat, will be held here late this afternoon. Tarwater was brought here last night from St. Joseph where he had been confined since Dec. 23, last.

The shooting of Mr. Robertson, a veteran Missouri editor, occurred in the office of the Democrat the afternoon of Dec. 23.

CENSUS SUPERVISOR ASKS CO-OPERATION

COAL OPERATORS WILL AGREE TO REGULATION

R. A. Hopper of Tishomingo was in Ada today to meet the census enumerators of Ada and confer with them as to the progress made in taking the census of the city. A meeting was held this morning at the city hall and the work was gone over and an effort made to speed up the enumeration.

Inasmuch as the enumeration was supposed to begin on January 2 and be completed in fifteen working days, it will be seen that the time for taking the census is almost exhausted.

Some of the enumerators were not able to begin work on the date set and the inclement weather has prevented the most active canvass on the part of the enumerators.

Ralph Crews, council for the central operators, explained that without making this reservation the operators could not legally join any price fixing agreement.

Miners representatives put before the commission their full demands as originally made and refused by the operators before the calling of the coal strike last November. Acting President Lewis recited demands for an increase of 60 percent in wages, the six hour work day and a five day week, the abolition of double shifts and a consideration by districts of internal difference and defended each of them.

"The living and social conditions of the miner and the environment in which he has been compelled to raise his family have ever been too foul" he said.

The efficiency and help of miners, he declared, require shorter hours and he added that the miners would endeavor to show the commission that the average soft coal mine did not work more than 30 hours a week in any case.

STELLA DERRICK SHOOTS HUSBAND IN TENSE SCENE

Thrilling Situation in Picture "The Witness for the Defense."

In her portrayal of the role of Stella Derrick in her Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Witness for the Defense," which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre tomorrow, Miss Ferguson is required in the action to shoot her drunken husband. The scene is one of great dramatic intensity and perhaps the strongest provided by the author, A. E. W. Mason, in his story.

During the filming of this scene Captain Ballentyne, the husband, a drunken wretch portrayed by Warner Oland, seeks to wrest a revolver from Stella, the role portrayed by Miss Ferguson, and in struggle to get it it is discharged and Ballentyne instantly killed. In falling he seizes Stella in a dying clutch and all but wrests her gown from her. Both players were intensely interested in the scene and the ultimate result in realism was reached.

The picture is one of exceptional power and affords Miss Ferguson one of the strongest roles of her screen career. Vernon Steel plays opposite the star and heads an excellent supporting cast.

NEXT SULTAN WILL HAVE ONE WIFE

THE FIRST IN A LONG LINE OF TURKISH RULERS WHO BELIEVE IN LOVE AND ONE MARRIAGE.

By the Associated Press
CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 13.—Turkey's next Sultan, Abdul Medjid, now the heir apparent, will be the first to have but one wife, and as such she will enjoy the same romantic position as the celebrated Roxalana, the all-powerful favorite wife of Suleiman the Magnificent whose tombs for centuries have attracted visitors to the Suleiman mosque in Constantinople.

Abdul Medjid is regarded as one of the most interesting personalities of Turkey. For 33 years he was a prisoner in the house of his father, Abdul 'Azziz, who was Sultan for 15 years until his disposition and death in 1876.

"I was happy during those long years," he said to the Associated Press "because I married early, at twenty-four, married for love, and then I used my time improving my mind, drawing wisdom from the works of the world's philosophers."

He is no longer officially a prisoner.

Since the dethronement and sudden death of Abdul Hamid in 1908, and the advent of the young Turks, he has won his way to liberty at least so far as travel in Asia, or in Constantinople is concerned and also to a certain freedom of speech.

In person he looks not unlike the old-fashioned gentleman farmer of England or America. Stout, bluff hearted, his dress is of rough, loosely fitting homespun, with only the red fez which Turks wear in or out of doors to indicate his nationality. When he doesn't smile, which is not often, his greying hair and mustache and wide Circassian blue eyes give him the thoughtful air which has led Turks to declare he will be a great Sultan if the whirligig of politics, internal and international, give him his chance to fulfill his dream of salvaging the wrecks of the Ottoman Empire.

"We have the makings yet of a great people, of a people that will get ahead in the arts of peace and industry under proper conditions," he said with an air of deep conviction. "Why won't America give us a start?" he asked in a quick, pathetic manner common to many of the men of the nations defeated in the war.

"Why should we have those hostile war vessels in our harbor a year after the armistice?" he asked pointing to the ships swinging in the Bosphorus. "Why not settle our affairs; let us rest from the wars without number which we have had?"

The Prince was looking out from a second story window, as he talked, of the Dolmabaghch Palace, the show place of Constantinople, where he has the use of one wing.

"Aren't the Turks anxious for an American mandate because they thereby see an opportunity to save themselves from partition and the loss of Constantinople?" he was asked.

Here the Prince dropped his French and began talking rapidly in Turkish, to Ahmed Emin Bey, a graduate of Columbia University and editor of the nationalist paper, VAKIT, who interpreted as follows: "We have no means of letting the people in America know what kind of people we are and what we think. The Turks want the Americans because they know the Americans would treat them honestly and help them develop a rich country to the profit of both. The Americans have never traveled here much, nor gotten to know the possibilities of our people, who are reasonably honest and hard working. It cannot be said that the Turks have ever betrayed their foreign friends so long as the latter acted in good faith. We have a long tradition of friendship with the liberal, western powers. After the Turkish revolution of 1908, we were most anxious to continue these relations.

"But here came our difficulty. These powers (England and France) wished to maintain good relations with the Russians who, without our seeking it, were hostile to us, and finally the Russian influence became so strong that every person favorable to Turks in the French and English embassies were drawn home by their governments. I personally went to the French and English Ambassadors and warned them that if this policy were continued we should be driven into a German alliance which would injure both the French and English and ourselves. This warning had no effect, and the Germans began to send us big military missions, also our officers were trained in Germany, so we entered the war on the German side.

"If the Americans don't come to us now, the end of it all may be a partition leading to other wars in which America may be involved. It might be cheaper for America to risk millions on us now rather than to spend billions later on a new war. Asked if he were a partisan of the Nationalist movement, the Prince answered: "A person in line for the throne can't become involved in particular movements but must represent his entire people."

The interview ended by the Prince saying: "Now let me interview you. Will America keep her word and sign the peace and enter the League of Nations?" Then he shook hands warmly, and touched his heart and forehead in sign of farewell, and motored back to his home and studio where he is painting new pictures of his beloved Circassian wife and his son and daughter.

These Tires Are a Revelation

The Brunswick is frankly a combination of the best in tire building.

There is one tread that's supreme beyond question. And that is now on Brunswicks.

There is one side-wall construction, which, by every test, holds the summit place for endurance. And that one was adopted for Brunswicks.

Fabrics differ—up to 30 per cent—in their strength tests. On Brunswicks the maximum long-fiber is the standard.

There are certain additions, each one expensive, which add vastly to tire mileage. The Brunswick embodies all these extras.

There are no patents, no secret formulas to prevent any maker from building the best. It is simply a question of knowledge and skill—cost plus care.

Brunswick standards are known the world over. The very name certifies an extraordinary tire. Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Buy ONE Brunswick. It will prove that a better tire can not be bought, regardless of price.

Some Things You Ought To Know About Advertising

Advertising is not a mystery any more than salesmanship, merchandising, law, government, blacksmithing and farming are mysteries. It is the close application of common sense; it is built and based upon Confidence. So is every business transaction—every social relation, civilization, life itself. Keep that thought in mind.

The greatest successes we know are advertising successes. More money is made through this medium than any other. The business man who fails to see and appreciate this truth, is, to say the least, unfortunate. He is wilfully throwing away money. Any business minus a reasonable amount of newspaper advertising is unstable. If there were any surer method to business success than through the medium of newspaper advertising, someone would have discovered it long ago. Be assured of that.

We believe—we have always believed—that if the business organizations of our town and community would use more discretion in their advertising, and use more advertising space in the newspapers, this would, more than anything else, discourage the mail order business. The mail order houses appreciate good advertising. Why? Because it gets the business.

Today no business concern can survive without judicious advertising, and the success of any institution is just as great as its advertising makes it. A river cannot rise above its head. A business cannot rise above its advertising. Advertising is to business what gasoline is to an automobile. No matter how good may be your automobile, it will not go without gasoline. Think about this.

We are on the eve of a new advertising era. It will be just as big as we care to make it, or as small. Advertising is one of the greatest forces in the world. It has accomplished purposes which no other agency has ever been capable of doing. The printed word reaches further, is more effective, and brings things to pass more quickly and satisfactorily in almost every instance than the spoken message. You will agree that the great liberty loan and other war work drives were brought to a magnificent conclusion through the aid of the printed message in the newspapers of this country. You will also agree that advertising is the only agency that could have accomplished so great a task in so short a time. Think of the many millions of dollars that have been passed along to the aid of Uncle Sam, and his great cause in behalf of humanity. Newspaper advertising played an important part in every drive; in fact, it is safe to say that the newspapers were potent factors in every undertaking looking toward the maintenance and comfort of our troops abroad as well as those of our camps and cantonments in this country.

Other Media Secondary

We are all aware that there are numberless avenues through which the public can be reached, billboards, street cars, dead walls, circulars, souvenirs, etc. But in the opinion of the merchant princes of the world these and all other modes of advertising are but secondary to newspaper advertising. There are many men in business who fail to take newspaper advertising seriously, to the extent of employing it to promote their enterprises. They refuse to be convinced. They lose out eventually. You know of many of them in the past few years who have gone into the discard as a result of their failure to advertise.

Remember always the bigger the business, the more it needs the assistance of sound advertising. Never put off until tomorrow the profits you should be making today by having advertised yesterday. If you could gather five or ten thousand prospective buyers into a large auditorium daily and talk to them, you would not need newspaper or any other advertising. But you can not do this, so the only alternative is to put those same words into print and send them to prospective buyers through the newspaper. Can you think of a better way? If so, we would like to have you tell us—it would be the greatest discovery of the age. The newspaper is always a power in any community, either for good or evil. Advertising can do nothing for the man who disregards it. Advertising doesn't add to your resources so much as it multiplies them.

We say to you conscientiously that the local newspaper is the greatest merchandising force in the world. It has helped build some of the world's greatest organizations; and the fact that some of the world's greatest stores advertise extensively and constantly, is proof that IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE. Knowledge plus enthusiasm plus advertising, equals prosperity. Time means money. Advertising saves time. Your advertisement in the newspaper has greater weight than what you say personally because it has the additional weight of the newspaper's recommendation which combines in giving the buying public confidence in you and your merchandise.

Do you wish to increase your business? We'll give you the answer—we'll tell you how to do it. Increase your advertising, and watch it grow. What! Do you doubt our statement? Ask some of the biggest concerns in the world. They'll tell you we speak the truth. Think about this, and ask yourself every day of the week if you are advertising enough. May we not come in counsel with you to help solve some of your advertising problems? Call on us—let us talk it over anyway. We know a whole lot that will be of great value to you.

PERFECT HEALTH IS EVERY WOMAN'S BIRTHRIGHT

Houston, Texas.—"I was in a terrible run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomaine poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and builder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedies in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I am now taking the second bottle and it is doing me a world of good. My strength is returning rapidly and I feel better in every way."

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that is doing me so much good and do not hesitate to give this statement."—Mrs. GRANVILLE SULL, 2117 Common St.

Beaumont, Texas.—"One of my sisters became quite a sufferer periodically and would have fainting spells. She doctor'd but did not improve. Then, three years ago, a friend advised her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It helped her right away and she has been in a healthier condition ever since that time."

"I would never hesitate a moment in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all young girls who suffer, I have such great confidence in it, seeing how it helped her."—Mrs. MARY E. BRANNER, 1970 Harrison Ave.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth.

District Court Hearing Civil Matters Today

District Court met this morning for an extended session. The civil docket containing a long list of cases was taken up for disposition. It is supposed that the session will last next week.

This morning was spent in sounding the docket and hearing motions. The first case called for trial is one wherein T. W. Chadwick is suing N. B. Matthews for commission alleged to be due plaintiff for helping to sell a ranch. It is alleged that Matthews got Chadwick to help him find a purchaser for a ranch, promising him one half of all the proceeds over and above $7,500. It is further alleged that Chadwick helped Matthews find a purchaser who paid $10,000 for the ranch, but Matthews pocketed all the money without paying Chadwick anything for his services. Wherefore Chadwick brings suit for one half of $2,500. C. F. Green of Ada is representing the plaintiff, while E. S. Kerr of Roff and Robert Wimbish of Ada are looking after the defendant's interests.

Most encouraging reports are reported from the column of "Leap Year Opportunities" run in the Evening News recently. A young lady of Seminole county has written a very promising letter to John Garner, one of the leading eligibles, asking for an immediate interview and advancing the doctrines of the direct actionist. It is reported that H. F. Mathis, another eligible, was seen last night at midnight engaged in an animated conversation with two young ladies not far from the Normal campus.

An important addition to the list of opportunities is the name of D. T. Bradshaw, teacher in the high school. When the original list was made out, the reporter misplaced Mr. Bradshaw's name, but a request has been received asking that his name be added to the column.

We cordially invite the public to see our carefully selected ladies' garments, and fine foot-wear. 1-13-2td. 1tw.

"We brought all the proofs we could muster", explained the superintendent, "but the mother persisted in her hallucination. She became hysterical with grief and fright. Finally, I brought her our records which showed that only a little colored baby and her own had been born in the hospital that day. That convinced her, but just think of what would have happened to that poor woman if other white babies had been born here on the same day."

In order to avoid a similar experience the superintendent engaged a fingerprint expert to instruct the head nurse in trying the system on the babies. "We found we couldn't get good prints of their hands", said the official. "Their feet, however, came out beautifully and for greater security the mother is finger-printed also."

Very young babies, it was said, may look alike but their feet are quite dissimilar. One child, the superintendent declared will have a perfectly formed miniature pedal extremity, another's will print mostly vague criss-cross lines and still another will look like "an egg and five toothpicks."

Under the present system, which has been in operation nearly six months, the child's foot is inked and stamped on the hospital chart of the mother. Although he may not resemble any one in the family and though no one can tell where he got his nose or his eyes or his mouth or the color of his hair, a comparison of the footprint taken at birth it was said, will tell whose child he is from among the hundreds of infants in this New York institution.

Woodman Circle Installed New Set of Officers

The officers of Angelo Grove of the Woodman Circle were installed at the Woodman Hall in Ada last night with the impressive installation ceremonies of that order. Mrs. Meadows of Oklahoma City, state manager of the Circle, had charge of the ceremonies as installation officer. Mrs. Reuben Sneed acted as attendant, with Mrs. Boud presiding at the piano.

The following were the officers installed for the new year: Guardian, Mrs. Sybil Jordan; Past Guardian, Mrs. Adair; Advisor, Mrs. Crawford; Chaplain, Mrs. Brents; Clerk, Mrs. Alta Binn Allen; Banker, Mrs. Roselee; Manager, Miss Blanche Chilcott; Attendants, Mesdames Bennett and Henson; Sentinels, Mrs. Wormington and Miss Bebbie Holloway.

Enjoyable features of the evening's program was the singing of "America" and the "Opening Ode." But the most popular number of all was the vocal solo by Dora May Boud. The singing of this little miss was the decided hit of the evening. A pleasing feature was the presentation of a handsome Circle emblem to the retiring guardian, Mrs. Adair, as a token of appreciation from the circle. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Meadows.

Speeches were delivered by Judge O. H. Searcy of Oklahoma City, John A. Fox of Norman, and Mrs. Meadows. As the principal speaker Judge Searcy spoke at length on matters of Woodcraft. He explained the work done by the Chicago convention last July and went into considerable detail in explaining the raise in rates and salaries and discussed the changes in the constitution of the order. He took the position that the raises were unwarranted and appealed to his hearers to back the fight now being made in the courts of Nebraska to injoin the new rates. Searcy is a brilliant speaker and was listened to with close attention. The speech of Mr. Fox was along the same line pursued by Judge Searcy. He spoke only a few minutes.

Mrs. Meadows took decided issue with the other speakers on the questions raised and enlivened the proceedings by a heated attack on Searcy, Fox, Tom Bodine of Oklahoma City. Her speech was a most vigorous one and seemed to be highly enjoyed by the large audience.

Near midnight refreshments were served by the ladies and a most delightful exercise came to a close.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET IN MUSKOGEE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 12 (Special).—The State convention of the Oklahoma Democratic organization will be held in Muskogee on Feb. 5, it was decided this afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee, called by Ben Lafayette, chairman of the State committee. Muskogee was the unanimous choice of the members of the committee. The matter of holding the convention at some point in the State other than Oklahoma City has been discussed at headquarters for some time, and there was no opposition to giving it to another city when the subject came up for solution.

County conventions for selection of delegates to the State convention will be held on Jan. 31. It will be left with the counties to decide if they wish to hold precinct conventions and send delegates to the county conventions, or let the latter select the State convention representatives. It was decided as a suggestion to the State convention that the presidential delegation be forty in number, with half a vote each. The State is entitled to twenty. This it was explained, would give the State an "active" delegation.

The national and State administration were endorsed in the fullest measure. The peace treaty, as President Wilson would have it, or with interpretations as would be acceptable to him, was indorsed; the Reserve banking law was indorsed.

After a warm fight C. C. Childers of Enid defeated R. A. Billups of Cordell for vice-chairman of the central committee. The office was left vacant when R. A. Echols corporation commission resigned.

Childers' election is construed as a significant victory for Ferris, as Billups is understood to be a strong Gore supporter.

The vote was 29 to eight.

The resolutions voiced amazement in the vote of J. W. Harrel, Republican Congressman from the Fifth Oklahoma District, against the unseating of Victor Berger and called upon the Republican State convention to state its position in regard to the matter. Senator R. L. Owen was indorsed in his candidacy for presidential nomination.

Roy Stafford, J. A. Whitehurst and other prominent democrats addressed the members of the committee when the business had been cleared away.

Supreme Council Busy

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Consideration was given by the supreme council this morning to a plan for the appointment of ambassadors to complete the details for the presentation and signing of the Hungarian peace treaty and to carry through the other unfinished business of the peace conference. The decision, however, was left to the heads of the governments of the principal powers.

Does It Pay To Keep Poultry? We Think It Does

Mrs. N. T. McAlister of 600 South Rennie has a good and sufficient answer to the above question in the report that she is sending to the Evening News.

On January the first, 1919, she had 29 hens and pullets of her own raising. During the year about 20 of these were eaten at the family table which saved many dollars in the way of not buying fresh meats, and later she sold 6 of the others.

During the year she gathered 352 3-4 dozen eggs from this flock of birds. They were worth $142 on the local market but some of them were sold at fancy prices. She also sold $18.50 worth of fryers and other chickens during the summer, and used more than 100 on her table, again saving an immense bill for fresh meats, and yet the family enjoyed the fat, plump fryers much better than they would have enjoyed the other meats from the market.

She now has 55 pullets and young hens to begin with another year, and a reserve of 15 more to eat when the fresh meat and sausages of our own raising gets old or doesn't suit the taste as it should.

The 55 young hens are easily worth $110, while the 15 others would bring $1.35 each on the local market. In addition to this, she took first premium on a White Wyandotte pullet at the county fair. The feed for these chickens for the entire year was but $160. She finds that what was consumed on the table and what she has on hand to eat, and what she has on hand to raise from another year, with the value of the eggs etc., amounts to the sum of $365.75, while her expenses outside of work was only $160.00. This leaves a difference of $205.75 for care of the flock, besides the pleasure of knowing from where your chickens and eggs come, and whether they are fresh or stale. She has not missed getting eggs a single day, in more than five years.

If you had been standing in our store

—one cold day last week at about 3 in the afternoon you would have seen:

—a middle age man of sandy complexion trying on a dark brown storm coat of heather mixture.

—a motherly looking woman buying cashmere hose for her son, who is a bachelor.

—a young man in his teens waiting for his father to help him pick out a heavy sweater.

—a traveling man buying fleece lined gloves to warm the handle of his grip.

—a college man with straight stem pipe paying for two suits of outing flannel pajamas.

—and little girl with hair in a braid waiting for a pair of woolen union suits that her Uncle had called us up about.

All seeking this store for good warm protection against the weather and all receiving courteous treatment and satisfactory merchandise no matter whether they spend a dollar or a dozen.

—Prayer Meeting at Christian Church

The regular prayer meeting of the Christian church will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The subject of study will be the third and fourth chapters of Romans. How we can know what sin is, whether by nature or by revelation, and Paul's great discussion of the place of the law in the plan of redemption will come in for consideration.

The Book of Romans is the greatest book Paul ever wrote. It contains the philosophy of redemption.

All members of the church are invited to these studies, and visitors are always welcome.

C. V. DUNN, Minister.

—Episcopal Church Notice.

The annual parish meeting of the members of this church will be held in the church at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening. It is urged that all the membership of the church be present to hear the reports of the treasurer of all the organizations.—Franklin Davis, Rector.

Normal Knows

No Superior In All Oklahoma

East Central Normal is not making a big noise nowadays, but it has its working clothes on and is doing the best work in its history. Least boastful, possibly, of all the schools of the state, it is striving at genuine accomplishment and is doing its work thoroughly and well.

An Evening News reporter looked in on the Normal classrooms this morning when "company" was not expected and when everything was running on a plain every-day schedule. It is natural to suppose that the work was that of other days — no better and no worse.

The first impression of the non-initiated on entering the corridor of the main building is one of disappointment. He is expecting to see some audible manifestation of energy. He expects some noise, similar to the hum of bees. But there is during the mid-class period a very noticeable silence. One gathers the impression that he has entered a vacant building from which student body and faculty have departed.

But admission into one of the busy class rooms reveals the mistake of the first impression. There is no noise because everyone is busy. And they are kept busy in a very quiet way. There is no moving about or loud discussion. No professor is lecturing in a tone of voice that can be heard thru the building. The decorum is a pleasant surprise to one who in some way has come to expect a medley of confusion.

To keep several hundred students under one roof busy and quiet is a problem, but one that East Central has evidently solved. Only once does the building become animated, and that is when classes are changing from one room to the next. Even then the order is to be commanded most heartily.

Visitors ought to be welcome, for it is easy to see that the students have a way of enjoying these visits.

things, he can find it on the Normal campus. The cost of the new building is the same as that of the original building, yet the new one could be hidden and lost inside the old. The two buildings standing well to the front of the campus are striking monuments of the advance in the cost of material and labor.
